

CO-ART

It is a project that aims to improve and perfect the ART of communication in primary school children

NEWSLETTER 1

Summary

CO-ART aims to go beyond teaching the basics of communication by emphasizing it as a crucial life skill. It seeks to empower primary school children with the confidence and abilities to navigate the world with clarity, empathy, and eloquence.

Ultimately, the project strives to lay a strong foundation for these children, enabling them to lead successful and fulfilling lives, both as effective communicators and active members of the global community.

Context

The motivation for this project, which focuses on improving communication skills for primary school teachers, is rooted in its potential to have a significant impact on various aspects of individuals' lives. This includes academic performance, personal development, integration into society and preparing students for the world of work.

Kick-off meeting in Córdoba (Spain)

The kick-off meeting took place in Córdoba, Spain, on 5-6 of October 2023. During the meeting, which was hosted by Villafuente, we went through many aspects of the project, the representatives of both countries discussed how the project was going to be approached, the first steps to be taken and the work-packages it consists of. We also had a chance to discuss the different meetings, where they will take place and the possible dates.
